Course

Course Name: Special Topics: Human Resources Consulting (2023FA - SPEC TOPIC HRM)

Semester: Fall 2023

Course Format: Lecture/ Field Placement

Time: M/W (M- Field & W-Class Lecture 2:00pm – 3:20pm)

Location: Beck Hall Rm 003

Overview

In this course, students work in small teams to provide consulting services to non-profit organizations, community groups and other local companies. These consulting services may include marketing, program evaluation, strategic planning, or other types of analysis that the organization may need. This is designed to specifically analyze these problems and formulate innovative solutions, and effectively communicate recommendations and implementation. The course will blend lecture with hands-on learning.

Students also learn valuable skills such as communication, teamwork, and relationship building. There will be a focus on developing those skills considered important by employers. Participants will learn how to assess organizational strengths and weaknesses, identify key problem areas, and make informed recommendations for improvement

The consulting model of service learning will adopt a 5-phase process to address the project. This benefits both the students and the community organizations. The organizations receive high-quality consulting services that they may not have been able to afford otherwise, while the students learn to apply skills from each phrase to practice like a consultant. This prepares students for future careers and helps to prepare students to build partnerships and enhance their credibility.

Course Assessment

| Guided Analysis | 20% |
|---------------------------------|-----|
| Discussion | 10% |
| Knowledge Check (4) | 10% |
| Attendance | 5% |
| Field Work (20) | 25% |
| Community Partner Evaluation | 10% |
| Final Presentation Portfolio | 10% |
| Final Paper | 10% |

Attendance (5%)

It is recognized that "life happens." You will be excused from class for documented legitimate reasons such as ill-health, personal/family emergency, recognized religious holiday, death in the family, etc. Accordingly, please contact me as soon as you become aware of the anticipated absence or soon afterwards and we can discuss how best to accommodate the missed course work. My overarching concern is for your well-being; we can then figure out how to ensure that you don't fall behind on your course work. However, students are expected to attend all scheduled classes and academic activities to fully engage with the learning process. Students are allowed 1 absence for the semester.

Guided Program Analysis (20%)

Using a 5-phase process, students will be guided through the consulting process while learning the concepts in class. Your analysis and report will respond to various questions and will also include various quantitative and qualitative methods.

Discussion (10%)

Throughout the semester, students will engage in discussion with peers regarding chosen articles related to consulting in HR. These will take place throughout the semester using Canvas.

Knowledge Check (10%)

There will be a total of 4 knowledge checks worth 10% in total. These will be based on assigned readings and lectures. All knowledge checks will be done via Canvas.

Community Partner Evaluation (10%)

The community partner will assess the student on willingness to learn new ideas/concepts, punctuality, dependability, attendance, participation, attitude, level of application and commitment to assigned tasks, and demonstration of learning outcomes.

Field Work (25%)

Students should spend at least 20 hours in the field, which includes being on-site and peer meetings. Monday class periods will be set aside to allow for some of this time. Students will get a chance to meet the various organizations on September 13th. Field placement starts Monday, Sept 25th.

Final Presentation (10%)

You will split up into groups and present a solution or program to address the selected problem/need. This should be 15-20min. All groups will give a presentation to the class at the end of the semester. The class, site and teacher will act as agency boards of directors to evaluate the quality of the project and presentation. This should be designed to tell a story about your project using the 5 phases of consulting.

Final Paper (10%)

For your final essay, you are tasked with reflecting on your experiential learning journey and its effect on your personal development and community impact. Also use the 7 habits to share how you've grown this semester.
